March is Red Cross fund month

Hancock County Red Cross officials met this week to discuss arrangements for conducting their last individual fund raising drive scheduled for the month of March. The money is needed to continue Red Cross activities within the county until United Fund payments are received in 1966.

"We have joined the United Fund," explained Russell Grey, chairman, "our large needs will form part of their annual goal."

In addition to Grey, campaign officers are: J. Hugh Miller, vice chairman; Mrs. George L. Kooms, chairman for Waveland; and Frank Emery, chairman for Bay St. Louis.

Drive plans will be finalized at a meeting called for 2:30 p.m. Friday in the Garden Center. At this time the appeal's objectives will split into three sections, one each for Bay St. Louis, Waveland and one to cover the balance of the county.

Commenting on the work of the Red Cross, the disposal of money raised and the necessity of continued public support, chairman Grey said, "As in many years the need for American Red Cross Funds in 1965 is great. Numerous floods, cyclones, and so on, have all contributed to heavy demands on

Red Cross services within the last year. If we are to continue to supply relief from want and suffering caused by unforeseen disaster we must raise ample funds to cover such events. Although we send a portion of local monies raised to assist in times of national distress, a substantial portion of all funds collected remain in Hancock County.

Prominent in this area for their hurricane relief work, the Red Cross also conduct other disaster services including nursing, blood banks, first aid, water safety courses, small craft safety schools, youth training programs welfare services, and operate teams of trained personnel working with our armed services and veterans.

Sail Test and Operations for North America.

"Although final date cannot be given at this time, due to bad weather slowing construction," said "Pat" K. &
"North American is definitely going to test their S-II-T all systems this year."

The S-II-T rocket used for development testing is a non-flight structure containing all elements essential to the actual second stage. Engineers and scientists check components
working in relation to one another in a series of tests designed to reveal any sign of malfunction
in both the rocket and the test stand.

One North American Aviation official explaining the new tests in simple layman's language said, "When we operate this unit, the one referred to
is a development testing rocket,
we look for bugs."

Corrective measures, if required, can then be made on the actual S-II, or the stand, before test firing. First full scale S-II firings are planned for early 1965.

The decision to conduct development testing in MTO will result in a building of electrical personnel at the site well in advance of original timetable.

North American put it this way: "Probably no additional people will be utilized because of our new program but our scheduled build-up will be faster
and our people more efficient."

First North American slide projector will show the S-II-T
as it arrives this summer. Construction of full rocket dimension
section, joined by metal tubing
and without engines, the test's
function is simply to show the structure in operation and to demonstrate its strength.

a chartered plane. Carry will follow Sam on a commercial flight and meet him in the city of gamblers and girls but we don't know if Peggy plans to join Floyd as yet.

Gripe corner

We have given up complaining about the pot holes on the "back road" known as either Central or Railroad depending on who happens to be talking about it. We're so used to these pits that we hardly give them a thought, or didn't until some rascals decided to repair some of them. We're driving along playing this particular form of Russian roulette when all of a sudden, shiny black patches appeared. . . neatly mended. . . this condition however lasted about three blocks. . . just long enough to lull us into a false sense of security, then wham. . . back to normal and of course the old automobile is out of line again. Please either fix all of the holes, or leave them alone!

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS ALONG THE WAY

Spring symptoms like greening willow branches and those red-leaved trees - the name we can never remember, narcissus blossoming and lilacs swarming along the sidewalk - the unusual these days sight of a small boy walking on stilts and the now almost rare sound of a cock heralding the dawn. . . we're getting so conditioned that this, like the clip, clip of horses' hooves is hardly more than a memory.

Under consideration

Proposed by the Board of Directors of the Hancock County Soil Conservation District, a new building to be built in the basement of the old Webb School. To house auxiliary police and firemen and provide a 100-ft. nuclear fall-out protection shelter, the pre-hardened and treated concrete block structure will also contain a complete communications system. With natural disaster occurring at relatively frequent intervals, said civil defense director Bert Siedel, "the need for a headquarters of this type has become increasingly apparent."

Furnished with its own emergency power supply the building's communications will consist of teletype, telephone and radio installations.

Although presently without final plans, costs or commencement date, civil defense personnel are hopeful that completion will be possible this summer.

South Miss. tourney

Boys take district title

Central's high all district. A basketball tournament was played at the college. Central won the title. The final game was a close one, with Central leading in the second period but being overtaken in the third. Central's victory was a surprise to many.

throughout the series. After drawing a first round bye, they defeated d'Herveyville 57-42 in their quarter-final test and beating their hosts on the metal ring pulled the plug on Leakeville 53-55 during semifinals Friday.

Sideline basket tournament set

With twelve teams on the docket, chairman Billy Murphy this week announced the bracketing for the fifth annual men's independent basketball tournament sponsored by the St. Stanislaus Sideline Club. Play will begin Wednesday night, March 3, in the St. Stanislaus gym and will run through Sunday afternoon when the championship game is set to begin at 4 p.m. First round schedule has St. Martin vs. Rapid Reproduction of Pica-yune, Trapani New Orleans vs. St. William, Wayne Mfg. of Waynesboro vs. H. A. T. Texaco of Long Beach, Slidell vs. Movie Stars of Poplarville, Trapani Bay St. Louis vs. Annunciation of Kilm, and Trivira Contracting vs. Pearl River.

8:15 p.m. tomorrow. Saturday night will offer the consolation game at 7 p.m. and the championship match at 8:15.

The girls bracket has West Lauderdale vs. Cullin, Bogue Chitto vs. Sumrall, Raleigh vs. Mendenhall, and North Pike vs. Pearl River Central for the first round tilts. Semifinals, finals and consolation games at Bogue Chitto follow the same timetable as the boys' games at Collins.

Tourney ends in 3-way tie

Mrs. Dick Merritt, Miss Maude Fry and Mrs. Jim Grissom tallied identical scores to tie in a low net tournament at Pass Christian Isles Golf Club on Tuesday. Mrs. Merritt was low putt winner.

In recent pel play, first round victors were Mrs. J.S. Wagner and Mrs. Guy Walsh over Mrs. Guy Buffin and Mrs. Don Herel; in second round Mrs. Dick Merritt and Mrs. James Fisher defeated Mrs. Walsh and Mrs. Wagner. Third round winners over Mrs. Earl de Vries and Miss Ann Liversedge were Mrs. John Grissom and Mrs. John Davis and in the fourth, Mrs. Walter Cox and Mrs. Powell Glass, Jr., took Mrs. Walter Russo and Mrs. Don Waggoner.

Girls tops in '65 tournament

Highly successful, the girls from Pass Christian won the final from Todd High 24-23. Todd had reached the final game by defeating St. Rose 22-8.

Girls' squad will be playing their last regular season game tonight at Kilm. The St. Stanislaus all-star game is scheduled for March 5 at Randolph High in the Pass.

"Gas supply is assured here. United has the pipelines and the gas reserves for all your future needs."

Working to bring new industries to town? One of their first requirements is a dependable supply of natural gas. Not just a gas supply, but a dependable one. Not just "bargain" gas, but an assurance that they won't be cut off during cold spells.

Cities and towns obtaining gas from United can assure industries of all the gas they'll ever need. United has more gas reserves, is connected to more fields, has more miles of main pipe lines than any company serving the area. You can be sure... with United.
